IN LIMBO AGAIN.

Ben Kelley Accused of Burning Underhill's Barn

G. R. Kelley, who seems to be peculiarly unfortunate in the matter of getting into the clutches of the law, is once more under arrest.
This time he is charged with arson.

It will be recalled that the TELE-GRAPH of last week contained an account of the burning of J. M.
Underhill's barn, near New River station, on the night of March 3d.
Suspicion pointed to Kelley as the incendiary and Mr Underhill at once swore out a warrant for his arrest. The warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff John R. Thomas, of New River, but when he looked for Kelley to serve the paper on him he was not to be found in the New River section. Kelley, it seems, was in Palatka when the deputy sheriff was looking for him. Monday night he came to Starke and Tuesday morning Deputy Sheriff Wm.
Tison took him into custody.
The hearing of the charge against him has been set for Wednesday, March 21st, before Justice Mitch-am at Hampton. In the meantime he is in the county jail in default of bond.

Deputy Sheriff Wm. Tison went to New River Tuesday afternoon to summon the witnesses for the prosecution of the case. He says there is a general belief there that Kelley is guilty, but that he did not learn anything of the character of the testimony that will be offered against him. Six witnesses were summoned for the prosecution.

On the other hand Kelley claims he can establish his innocence by a dozen or more witnesses, who will testify that he was in Palatka on the night of the fire.

Douglass & Alderman Sell Out.

The firm of Douglass & Alderman is no longer numbered among Starke's mercantile institutions.
J. W. Hodges has bought the stock and good will of the firm and will continue the business.

Messrs. Douglass and Alderman had conducted the business on a high plane, and they have many friends and customers who regret that they found it to their best interests to retire from the mercantile business at this point. It is gratifying, however, to know that both of them will continue their citizenship in Bradford county.
After the firm's affairs are fully adjusted Mr. Douglass will probably go to Hagen, which town is so near to the Bradford and Columbia line as to be practically claimed by Bradford, to embark in business.
Mr. Alderman will remain in Starke indefinitely.

The new proprietor of the business, Mr. J. W. Hodges, is so well known to the trade of Starke and Bradford county that he needs no introduction at the hands of the TELEGRAPH. He will increase the present stock and keep the store up to the high standard established by Messrs. Douglass & Alderman.

Time Extended.

By an oversight mention of the extension of the time for the county tax books to close was omitted from the minutes of the board of county commissioners published in the TELEGRAPH last week.

Collector Alderman appeared before the board and asked for an extension of 30 days, which was granted. This places the time for closing the books to the last of April. It is intended to close the books at that time, as the law allows an extension of only 30 days, and all persons should pay up as soon as possible.

Miss Ella Woolford, milliner for the W. B. Haynes Company, spent the day Wednesday in Jacksonville, attending the spring millinery openings at the large stores
